AUDITION PROCESS

1. Applicants will be notified two weeks before the audition regarding the date, time and place.
2. The MVS usually invites three highly qualified musicians from outside the area to judge the applicants.
 - a. Judges will not be screened during the performances.
 - b. No observers are allowed in the hall.
3. A contestant must perform the selection in its entirety but may elect to omit repeats and/or extended orchestral sections. Contestants will be offered a two-minute period on stage to get a feel for the hall, the piano or tune string/wind/brass instruments. During this time, the contestant may play scales or other exercises, not the piece to be performed. Practice rooms will be available for warm-up.
4. The judges usually recommend two to four competitors as soloists with the MVS based upon the quality of each individual's audition. In 2016, they recommended two performers. In 2018, three contestants performed with the MVS and one with the Youth Symphony.

AWARDS

The MVS may make monetary awards to soloists in an amount determined by the MVS.
